6th Conference of Linguistics-Technical University

Lexical Approach. Theory and Practice

22nd of May 2021

Przasnysz

CALL FOR PAPERS

We cordially invite you to present a paper or conduct a workshop at the 6th Conference of Linguistics-Technical University in Przasnysz.

Our conference aims at making Lexical Approach more popular. This novel approach to teaching foreign languages, suggested by Michael Lewis in 1993, is being gradually introduced into language classrooms. We believe that an exchange of ideas and a discussion of methodologies related to the lexical approach, such as corpus-based methodologies, will promote the application of some elements of the LA in foreign language teaching practice.

We hope to provide the participants with space for presenting up-to-date research into the lexical aspect of language and corpus-based methods of investigating the lexicon as well as sharing some of the latest Language Teaching solutions. The Conference will be also the forum for academics and school teachers of various backgrounds and levels, where the participants may share their experience, gain insight into practice and efficiency of language teaching.

We hope that in addition to lectures and discussion panels, also practical workshops will enable foreign language teaching professionals to develop their teaching competence.

The conference will be organized in a videoconferencing or hybrid format, depending on legal regulations.

This Call for Papers welcomes contributions covering any of the following or related topics:

- Lexical Approach in ELT
- corpus-based research into language and lexicon
- teachers' working with lexicons and corpus data
  - raising lexical awareness through:
